TO WESTERN BRAZIL

June 2010

Dear Friends,

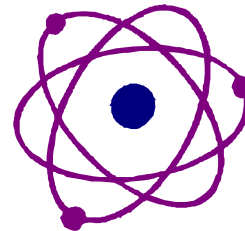

You may remember that in August of last year Julio De Rojas and I went to Leticia, Colombia, and then to Manaus and Santarem, Brazil. Our purpose was to open new Bible schools in these cities. This year it is important to check on those schools that were started last year, and give them any needed help and encouragement. And further, my heart is to open new Bible schools in both Acre and Rondonia States.

Unfortunately, Brother Julio can't accompany me on this new trip to western Brazil. Therefore, drawing on our acquaintance with the family of Bishop Edgard Moreira of Joao Pessoa, Brazil, where we spent two weeks in late 2008, I requested that one of his English-speaking sons accompany me in July of this year. His youngest son Erich has eagerly responded to my request and he will be my interpreter during our travels together. RAM will pay his entire expenses for this trip.

Please refer to the map on page 2 for details. The red dots are the cities that will be visited. I will be alone in Leticia, Colombia, and I am believing for understanding the Spanish language more than ever before. Then after a couple of days, I will fly to Manaus and meet Erich who will fly from Joao Pessoa. After checking on the schools at Manaus, we will fly to Porto Velho in Rondonia State where we plan to begin at least one Bible school. After a couple of days in Porto Velho, we will fly to Rio Branco to begin another Bible school. Again, after a couple of days, we will continue onward to Cruzeiro do Sul to plant another Bible school there. After a few days there, we will return to Manaus and the next day we will part company, Erich flying back to Joao Pessoa on the east coast of Brazil, and myself flying back to Leticia, Colombia, Bogota, Houston, and Los Angeles.

QUANTUM FAITH

In the last few weeks, I have been studying the subject of "Quantum Faith" with the intention of teaching it at Ministry Training Ground. This is an amazing study! The macro (big) world operates under the laws of gravity, buoyancy, and other natural laws, all of which behave in the same way for every-body. But the micro (tiny) world is different. The sub-atomic world seems to depend upon the observer. Let us assume the atom in the figure below has 3 electrons orbiting about the nucleus. When these electrons are photographed by a camera, they do not manifest in particle form, but only in wave form, as in a cloud or fog around the nucleus. But when a person observes them, they appear as particles as seen below.

Stranger still, when a different person observes them, they respond differently than when viewed by the first person. This means that the particles are alive, and respond to different observers differently according to the faith of the observer! The fact that all matter is alive should not surprise us; a living God doesn't make dead things. The entire universe is alive.

Matter responds to energy. As in a microwave oven, when the power is turned on, the glass of water inside the oven absorbs energy until it begins to boil. In the same manner, when energy bombards an atom, the electrons of that atom are excited to move into
